

charity

Charity Giving a Helping Hand

It would be fair to say that Jeremy is mad about Charity, in fact he's BARKING MAD about charity. Because he's so passionate about helping others, Jeremy would love you to join him in making a pledge to others less fortunate than yourself! Here are just a few of the charities receiving Jeremy's support throughout 2009. Each is focused on helping people, something very close to Jeremy's heart.

Platinum Charity for 2009

Jeremy's work with the children's charity "When You Wish Upon a Star" continues apace for this season, so much so, that Jeremy has awarded them Platinum Charity Status for the second year running, which means every available spare minute he has will be devoted to helping them make the dreams of seriously ill children come true. The charity, founded by Barbara White OBE has granted the wishes of thousands of children since its foundation, and Jeremy is eager for the charity to continue to make such a huge difference. Why not join Jeremy in helping bring some sunshine into the lives of these remarkably brave children by visiting and don't forget the all important

Other Key Charities for 2009

If, like Jeremy you've had enough of global injustice and violence at every level, why not help him and the team at Amnesty International to reshape the way we treat each other, you might just discover that the world is full of peace loving people just like you. Amnesty International can be reached by going to Jeremy has long been a supporter of the various Air Ambulance charities in the United Kingdom, and he is truly delighted to be able to lend special support to the Devon Air Ambulance Trust, who have gone from strength to strength since he first worked with the team in 2002. This year marks a number of key milestones for this worthwhile cause, and Jeremy encourages you all to become involved, especially anyone planning a holiday in Devon! The truly remarkable work of the Red Cross continues to be a focus for Jeremy as he maintains his support for the Russian branch of this remarkable organisation. Throughout the world the Red Cross and Red Crescent provide unrivalled medical and social support, their work in Russia is helping to overcome a good many of the challenges created when the Soviet Union collapsed. Jeremy's passion for Russia coupled with his deep respect for the work of the Red Cross is why heâ€™d love you to click on the link below to see how you might be able to help improve life. or the International Red Cross/Crescent site By the way, if you are planning an event in aid of any of the charities mentioned, let us know by completing our Charity Form